LordCap Green Sustainable Art Project Outline

Overview:

LordCap Green, an affiliate of Lord Capital, is a leader in financing clean energy and sustainability improvements to commercial properties across the United States. Our investments help build new health centers, industrial plants, mixed use buildings, and environmentally rehab existing office buildings.

LordCap Green is inviting artists at Parsons School of Design to submit works that encompass and demonstrate our mission of a greener future through finance.

The winning pieces will be displayed in LordCap Green's Wall Street office.

Process:

Applicants are invited to submit complete works that demonstrate their vision around the topic of clean energy and sustainability. Submissions may vary in size, style, or medium but must meet the specifications listed in the Rules & Requirements section included.

From the submissions, finalists will be selected and awarded by a committee of LordCap Green executives. All winning pieces will be displayed prominently within the LordCap Green office on Wall Street for one year. Should LordCap Green choose, it will retain the ability to negotiate the purchase of the piece after one year and will compensate the artist accordingly.

Award:

1st Place - $1000

2nd Place - $750

3rd Place - $500

Honorable Submissions - LordCap Green will also reserve the ability to award and display an artist's submission which encompasses and demonstrates skill and inventive sustainability through an art medium.
